NATIONAL COLLEGE OF

Today, National College looks different. The modern architecture of Sutherland Hall, housing the campus Demonstration school, the Television Center, Library, Curriculum Laboratory, as well as our College classrooms, blends easily into the suburban community which surrounds us. Harrison Hall is a continuous reminder of National's 85 years of leadership in preparing teachers for careers in elementary education. The new and the old stand together as tradition and experimentation.

F EDUCATION, 1971

National takes advantage of both suburban and urban areas—utilizing the vast cultural wealth of the Chicago Metropolitan area.

The Old and New--Marienthal

Close personal relationships are important elements of college life. The significant role of human interaction in the learning environment is seen at our dorms. Our 'home away from home' provides excellent opportunity for the informal aspects of the college experience.

Communication has

Communication is a life-line on the college campus. Students from a wide variety of backgrounds come together and share ideas and experiences. The student lounge is always a place of many faces—many dialogues—many discussions. It's the perfect setting for individuals or for groups. It became the setting for this year's student television series "Agape" which focused on issues of general concern.

many faces

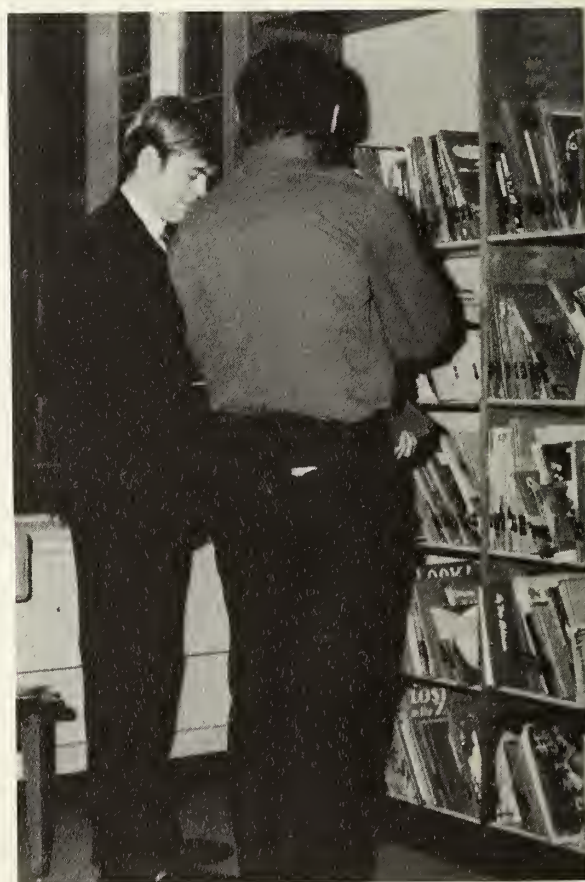

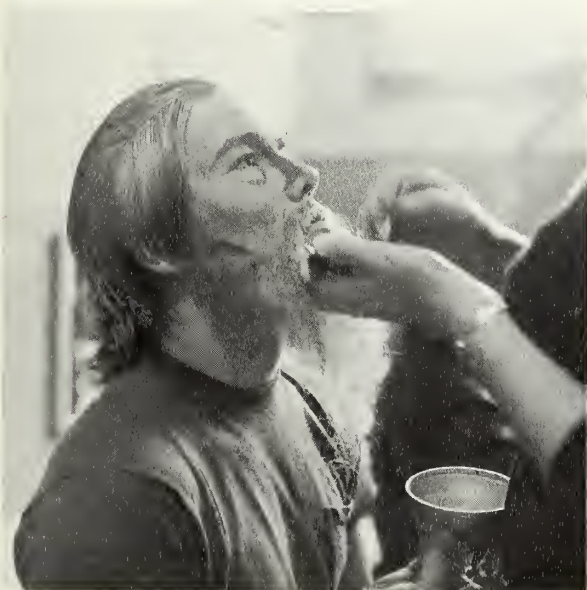

Students and instructors work together toward a common goal—the development of individual potential. The educational atmosphere is one of discovery through participation. The formal and informal aspects of the college experience combine to provide a uniquely satisfying experience.

Campus involvement ranges from the Science and Art laboratories to resource centers, to the more informal campus events. Basketball, drama, and music represent three areas of creative commitment to performance.

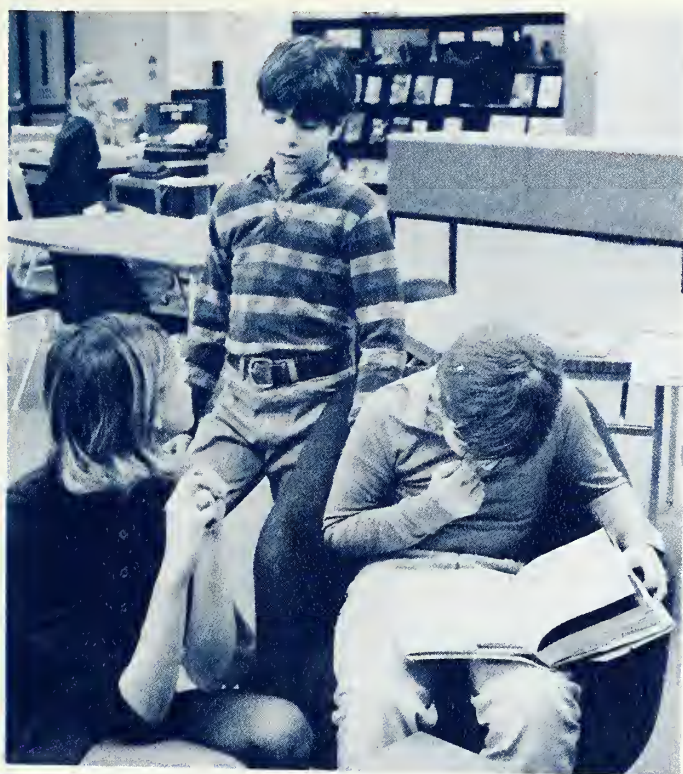

Winter weekend is anticipated many months in advance and includes a formal dinner and dance. Throughout the year, coffee houses sponsored by the Town Association mark additional social highlights.

As at any other college or university, social activities have an important place at National.

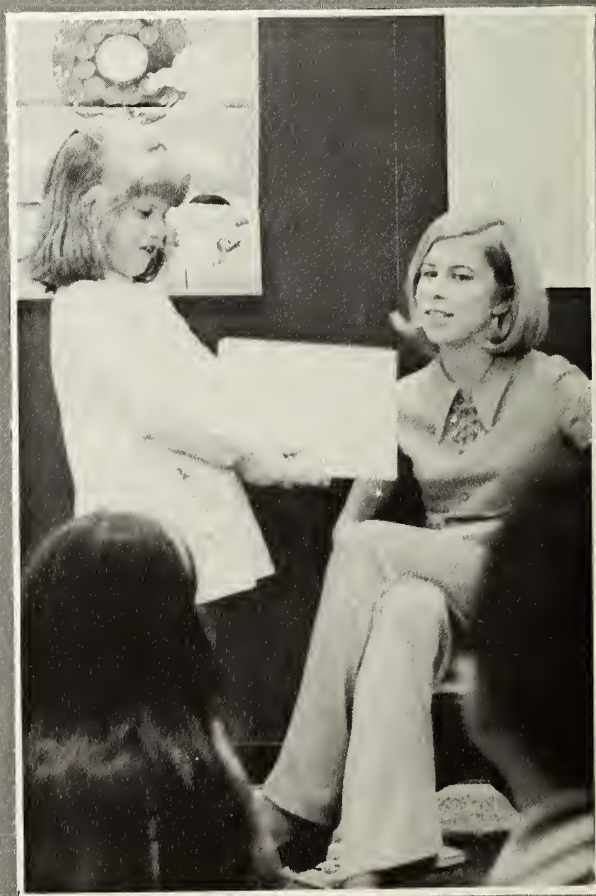

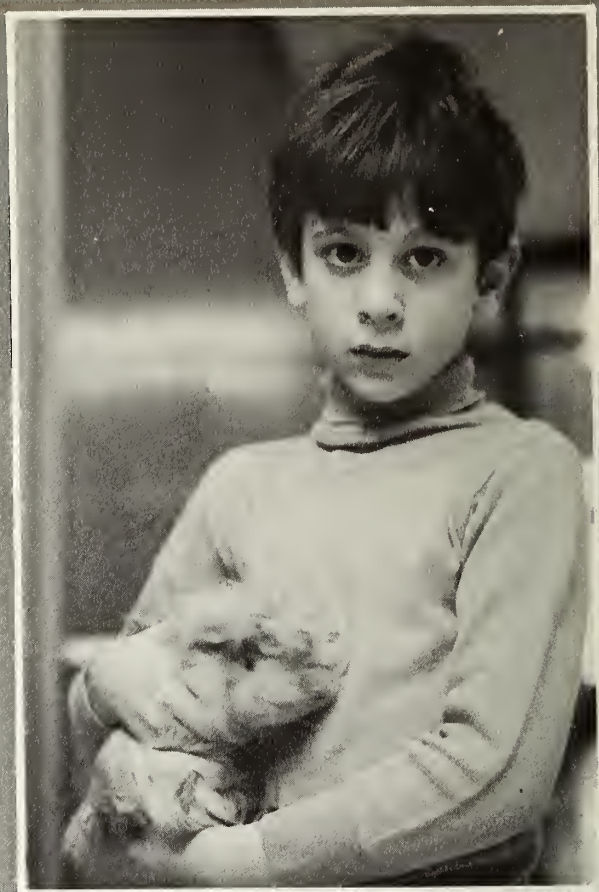

Everyone remembers the first time of stepping into a classroom and seeing 25 faces looking for encouragement, love, and attention. The learning experience is a two-way street and student teaching put us in the middle of that street. The challenge of communicating, of responding, of creating and controlling. The excitement of knowing that someone is learning. The desire to do the best kind of job...

KIDS, KIDS, GLORIOUS KIDS

It started with observations. Then participations. Soon we were teaching a half day, then a full day. The Demonstration School—the northshore suburbs, Chicago, the inner-city—make for a wide variety of teaching opportunities.

Scared of being an adult of dresses
which will not cause mouths to turn of put-on friendships without intimacies memories . . .
of tears amidst the throngs
singing out loud
Stopping to watch the world or ants strolling along
the sidewalk cracks.
Making miniature snowmen
talking to a stranger because I want to . . .
dreams of a changed world trying not to change into an adult smile to show I understand a silly joke
a phrase
but I don't Large words to show intelligence

clap for an anti-war song
at a concert
clap louder to show concern . . .
not wanting to change into an
adult
but I needn't worry . . .
I've already been caught.
The moon, the moon how high it seems to be reached thru the eyes of the young who dreams of pirates and treasures and jewels galore of planes and rockets and everything that soars these dreams are not only of the young
we too are waiting for things to come the way things are now, who knows how long to wait
I hope by that time it won't be too late.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT-

The purpose of Student Senate was to further faculty and student cooperation, receive and entertain student opinions, and to coordinate student activities.

SENATE

This year's officers were John Colgren, president; Bob Carroll, vice-president; Bonnie Hanna, secretary; Pat Stengel, treasurer; Merle Weiss, social chairman; Monica Cyprian, publicity chairman; Debbie Kornbluth, campus relations coordinator; and William McNeal, community action representative.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Mr. Donald Cawelti shows his slides of Africa to a meeting of the International Club.

N.C.E.'s International Club was busy this year acquainting students with the customs and traditions of the various cultural and ethnic groups represented at the college through slide shows, lectures and excursions.

This year's officers were Nina Sugihara, president, and Pat Hori, secretary.

COMEBACK CLUB

What's it like to go back to school after having pursued other interests, such as a husband and children?

Ask a member of the Comeback Club.

CHAFF-

KAPPA DELTA PI

Officers for 1970-71: Edward Horner, treasurer; Kathy Cedoz, secretary; Fran Grafman, vice-president; Dr. Janet Rees, faculty advisor; Paula Jenkins, president.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honorary society in education, recognizing those students who have made outstanding contributions in education. Activities this year included a Bake Sale, speakers for the various meetings, and attendance by some members at the Kappa Delta Pi regional convention in Cincinnati, Ohio this April.

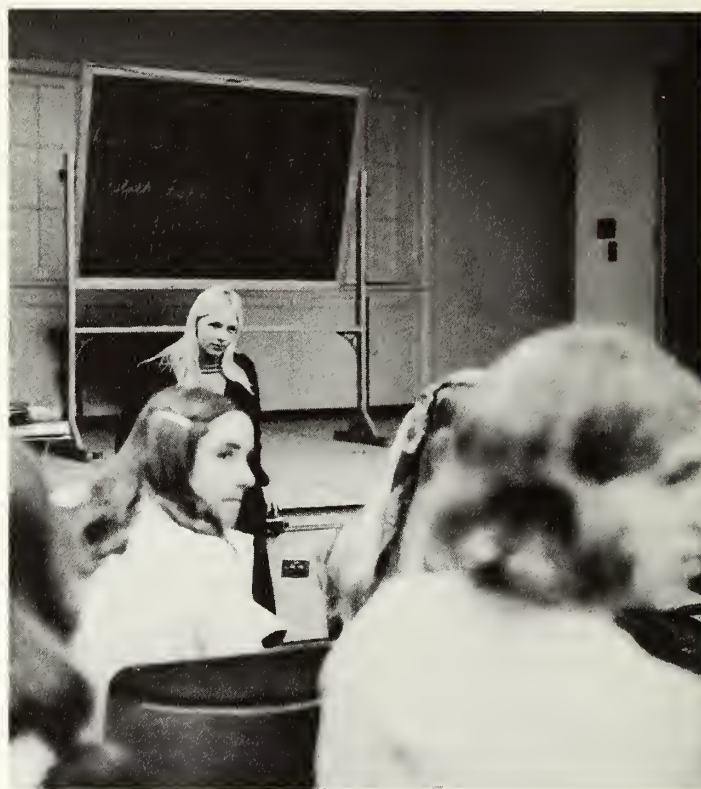

New and old members of National's Theta Eta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi attend an initiation dinner this May.

TOWN ASSOCIATION

The purpose of Town Association was to involve non-resident students in the various activities at the college. Included in this year's Town projects were coffee houses, bake sales, and a raffle.

Jill Dithmar conducts a Town Association meeting.

The officers of Town Association were Jill Dithmar, president; Judy Fromm, vice-president; Diane Krall, secretary-treasurer; Sue Prosniewski, social chairman; and Donna Witt, Student Senate representative.

N.C.S.E.A.

N.C.S.E.A., a new club this year, strove to keep students aware of "happenings in education" and to aid them in preparation for the professional field. Among the many activities for the year, the members collected a materials file, worked in a Voter Registration program, and participated in both state and national programs, such as the "Write-In Campaign," which sent letters to President Nixon voicing the students' opinion of the need for a Secretary of Education.

The officers were Karee Hahlbeck, president; Connie Forbes, vice-president; Nancy Carlson, treasurer; Anne Hargrave, secretary; and Merle Weiss, legislative chairman.

AMBASSADORS

The Ambassadors plan for the coming year at a fall pizza party.

The Ambassadors served as official hostesses of N.C.E. and as assistants to the Admissions Counselors. Their goal was to portray a sincere and willingful school spirit to prospective students and to encourage school spirit among the undergraduates.

The officers of this year's Ambassador's Club were Gail Roberts, president; Marie Stratton, vice-president; and Cynthia Katsense, secretary.

A.W.R.S.

The Association of Women Resident Students was the official body of all female residents at National.

The main purpose of A.W.R.S. was to set standards which would promote conditions in the residence halls conducive to an atmosphere of friendliness, cooperation, and responsibility.

UBSANCE

The officers were Emma Hoskins, president; Judy Benjamin, vice-president; Dale Wallace, corresponding secretary; Joyce Cannon, recording secretary; Gail Roberts, treasurer; Gertie Brogsdale publicity chairman; and Doreen Mitchell, social chairman.

Teacher James Norris lectures students during Black History Week.

Ubsance existed to unite the Black students of National both socially and politically and to develop leadership and responsibility among people of the Black community.

CONCERT CHAMBER SINGERS

Concert Chamber singers provided an opportunity for selected voices to sing and perform choral music of various periods and styles for the college and the community. Among the concerts performed this year were the MESSIAH and the opera AMAHL AND THE NIGHT VISITORS.

DANCE GROUP

Dance Group was an organization directed by our Artist in Residence Sybil Shearer and dedicated to the task of perfecting and exhibiting each member's dancing ability.

Carl Berg

The National College Rebels Basketball Team ended their home season in Griffan Gymnasium by upsetting Emmaus College, 77-70. This victory, though long awaited, overshadowed a dismal season (1-17), and proved that the Rebels could win by "putting it all together."

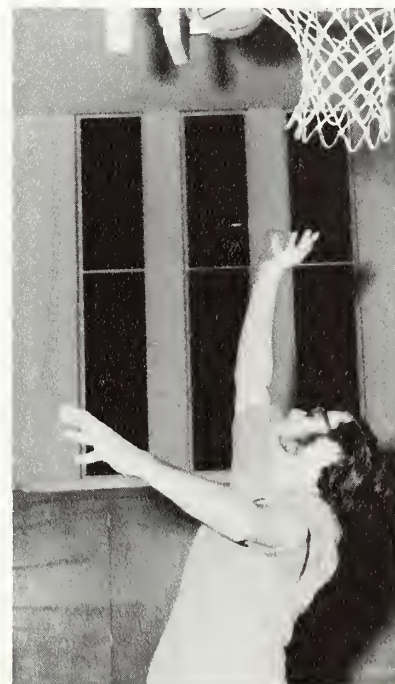

Senior Co-Captains George Steffen and Owen Kelsall (most valuable player) provided leadership that enabled the Rebels to work together as a team. Steffen played in 54 consecutive games during his career, while Kelsall led the Rebels in scoring during the 1970-1971 season. Sophomores Carl Berg and Stan Embry will provide a one-two combination next year. Berg consistently led the Rebels in the free-throw accuracy, while Embry led the team in rebounding.

Seniors John Colgren and Ed Horner, junior Rich Diesterheft and freshman Mark Azersky provided their abilities as well as a "winning attitude" necessary for any team to work together.

The outlook for next year no longer remains dim. The Rebels have learned that "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Two favorite senior occupations: eating and drinking.

Seniors help each other adjust their caps as they wait to line up on the Music House lawn.

GRADUATION DAY - JUNE 12, 1971

Members of National's faculty gather near the Music House before the Processional.

Lined up, the seniors march down Sheridan Road toward Harrison Hall.

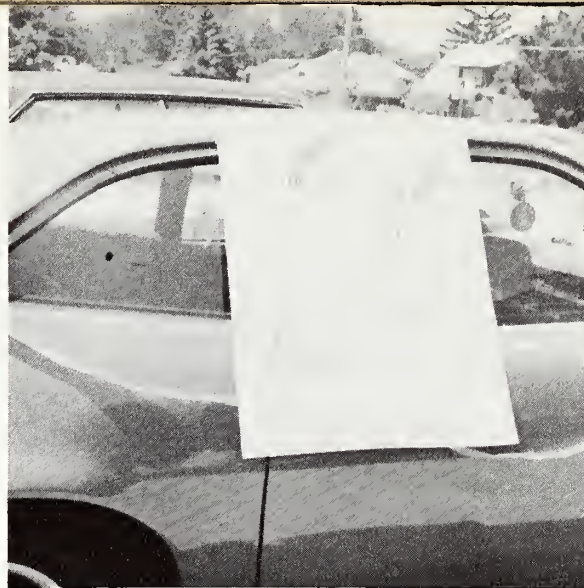

Dr. Dorothy Duffee delivers the Commencement address.

The Sophomore Daisy Chain says good-bye to the seniors from the second floor balcony.

Some people have all the luck with graduation presents, Gail!

A time to say goodbye. . .

A sea of caps in the front hall after graduation ceremonies.
